Wenhaston Fundraises for Ukraine

Wenhastonians have been doing their best to support the Ukrainian people. A showing of West Side Story in the village hall attracted a large audience and the exciting musical was enjoyed by all. With donations on the door, and all bar profits going to the DEC appeal for Ukraine, this raised £455.

Added to this was a magnificent fundraising effort, started by two members of the Wenhaston Primary School Council. It raised £208.25 for the appeal. It is understood that one pupil gave their entire week's pocket money to the cause; wonderful to hear.

Guy Chinnery accepted this amazing contribution raised by the Wenhaston Junior School Appeal, from headmaster, Mr Stone. And well done these two young leaders of the Wenhaston Junior School Ukraine Appeal!

Lyn Gedney/Tony Gow

Wenhaston's Ukraine Appeal Generosity

A small village, but a big heart! Over the last few weeks we have raised a wonderful amount for the Ukraine Disasters Emergency Fund Appeal for Ukraine. Kicking things off was a Saturday village hall Café 'Special', where a good crowd enjoyed live music, and delicious café food – expanded to include bacon rolls, Ukrainian braised cabbage(!) and a whole range of superb savouries and cakes. Importantly, many kind artists, crafters and bakers donated lots of superb creations which were sold in the main hall. There were too many donors and helpers to name, but I will mention the 3 bands: the Wenhastonstrummers Ukulele Band, 'Stephen and Sarah' from Halesworth, and the Black Deek Band – whose fiddle-player Tony played a superb and moving solo Ukrainian National Anthem. A HUGE 'thank-you' to you all....

Now, the total the amount we raised from this event, including several 'after-sales', is currently a magnificent £3270.92

And it gets even better: one of the items donated by a good friend of mine was a 'Sprang' weaving by Peter Collingwood, the leading exponent of the art in the 1960s and 70s. Though offered £50 for it during the morning, I held back thinking it could well be worth a bit more. The Fine Art Auction House Sworders is putting it into in to a forthcoming auction (May 16-17, available to see online) at an estimate of £4000 - £6000. Wow! And they are not charging any commission on the sale as it's for our Charity Appeal!

In these bleak times, it is really gratifying to see such generosity in our community.

Results! Blyth Woods' Spring Competition

For our Spring Competition we asked you to guess how many tennis courts would fit into the land that our Group maintains: Vicarage Grove, Malsters Little Field, Grove Piece and the Merton Woods Orchard.

The answer was... 56!

Thank you to everyone who entered. The guesses ranged from 3,610 (if only we had so much land!) to 16, and lots of you were very close. The three entries closest were 51 and two at 50. They are our winners and will be notified by email about how to pick up their prizes.

Congratulations!

Jubilee Fun-Day Sunday 5th June 2022

Join us in a super, fun-filled day to celebrate Her Majesty the Queen's Platinum Jubilee. All are welcome to join a procession through the village, starting at 11.15am at The Star public house. A circular route will take us along Hall Road, The Street, Bramfield Road and Back Road. There will be a brief stop at the Village Hall to unveil a celebration plaque and the procession will end at the playing-field, where a BBQ and other refreshments have been arranged.

Celebratory mugs provided by the charity Pepyn and Lessey will be handed out in the afternoon to the children of the school. The illustration on the mugs was chosen after a competition of very high-quality designs drawn by the school children. Live music by local musicians will provide entertainment, and table displays, set up by village activity groups, will add further interest.

Challenging fun activities for all the family will complete the afternoon. These include egg-and-spoon races, sack races, and for the dads, the traditional welly-throwing contest...and many more. So come along, enjoy the day and make it one to remember! We look forward to seeing you all!

Wenhaston Flower Club

Our meeting on 5th of April was very well attended, and we were delighted to welcome Lizzie Woolnough to flower club. Lizzie's workshop on how to make an Easter table centre piece, without the use of florist foam, was great fun and everyone thoroughly enjoyed it. The arrangements produced were beautiful.

Our next meeting is on Tuesday 3rd May 7.30pm in Wenhaston village hall. We are delighted to welcome Jane Bastow to flower club. Jane is a local flower gardener with a wealth of knowledge and experience .

As we look forward to the warmer days and time in the garden, Jane's demonstration is entitled, PREPARING FOR SUMMER. This will be a flower demonstration with a difference.

Jane will be showing us how to pot up our summer bedding plants to keep them flowering all summer, and which plants grow best together. She will also be demonstrating how to pot up 2 different types of hanging baskets.

At flower club we are a friendly little club and offer a warm welcome to everyone. We don't have an annual membership fee, if the demonstration is something that interests you just come along on the night (£5 with tea/coffee & biscuits).

A Year Younger Than Her Majesty

Heather Phillips has lived in Wenhaston all her life. She went to the village school until 1939. She got a Scholarship to the John Leman grammar school in Beccles and studied there until July 1945.

‘The war was on every day I was at school. I got there despite the railway line being bombed! I cycled from Wenhaston to catch the steam train at Halesworth that went to Beccles. Then I walked over a mile to school from Beccles Station.’After school she took the same long journey back again. All this dedication to her education got her a place at teacher training college in London after which she taught in Ipswich, Rendham, Yoxford and Saxmundham.

Heather’s great grandfather was elected councillor in Halesworth in 1894 when Parish Councils first were first started. Her grandfather was Wenhaston Parish Clerk for 40 years. Her uncle was then the next parish clerk for 40 years. It could be said parish counselling was in her DNA as Heather too became a parish councillor. She was elected to Wenhaston Parish Council in May 1955 (which was also the year she was married) and she has been on the council ever since.

She received an MBE for 50 years of services to the community in 2005 and she is still going strong. Could she be oldest continuously serving Parish councillor in the UK?

Heather has been instrumental in improving village life with such projects as the playing field, the village hall, The Footpaths Walkers Team, the Commons Conservation Team, the Wenhaston Millennium Map, the Jubilee hedge and much more besides.

She will turn 95 on 3 June 2022.

Heather has been chosen by the Parish Council to represent Wenhaston in the county wide Suffolk Queen’s Jubilee Celebrations by riding on a rickshaw through the village. (Actual date to be announced)

Heather's brainchild was The Millennium Map — a copy was given to every Wenhaston resident at the time. Quite a few still are still available FREE to any past or present village resident. They are currently stored in the village hall. If you would like one please ask for one. Contact Jill Daines jill.daines@btinternet.com .

Or, leave your name and number at the Wenhaston Post Office and Jill will contact you. Any donations should go to the Commons Group that organised the printing of the map.)

Wenhaston Save our swifts action group

The group met on 24th March to make plans for the year. We were pleased to welcome two new people, as the meetings are open to any resident who would like to get more involved. The next meeting is on Thursday 5th May. Please contact me via e mail:

WenhastonSOSActiongroup@gmail.com if you would like to come and I will give more details.

In the meantime we have facilitated six new households to obtain swift boxes through the Suffolk Bird Group and AONB. Thanks to Eddie Bathgate, Steve Piortrowski and Alex Moore da Luz from AONB from Suffolk Bird Group, who have been very helpful.

We have met with Mr Stone , head teacher of Wenhaston Primary School to discuss the swift box with video link and caller that was installed two years ago. This will be switched on in time for the arrival of the swifts in May. Two small bird nest boxes were put up by Jonathan Alder so that the children can observe other bird activity, such as blue tits, around the school.

The popular Swift Pint walk is currently scheduled for 2nd July at 6pm, meeting in the village hall car park, led by Alan Miller. To be confirmed in June Warbler.

The Swift flag will be raised as usual in St Peter's Churchyard when the first swift appears. If any of you spot a swift and the flag is not up, let me know via the swift group, e- mail address above.

Last year the first swift was seen on 8th May. Migrating swifts have been seen flying north in Southern Europe so it hopefully won't be too long until they appear!

Kate Archibald, co-ordinator Wenhaston SOS action group

Wenhaston Mother's Union

At our April meeting we were very pleased to welcome the Revd. Dominic Doble, as this was the first time that Dominic has joined us since becoming our Team Priest. We began by signing the beautiful and popular hymn "My Song is Love unknown" Dominic then used the Hymn to talk to us about his life, his training for ordination and about the various churches in many parts of the country where he has been part of church Life.

During this journey he said that he had sung the hymn many times, and at differing services, from baptisms to funerals. I felt that for Dominic the hymn tells so well the suffering and the agony which Christ endured for us, and love which he freely gives to us all.

Our next meeting will be on Wednesday 11th. May when the speaker will be Lesley Rawlinson from St. Elizabeth's Hospice in Ipswich, and we shall very much look forward to welcoming Lesley to our meeting.

Marsh and Garden

The grazing marshes have cattle on them now that the pools of water have subsided, and there is an abundant fresh new growth of grass.

When we walked towards the river, we turned to look back, and there was a large brown hare sitting perfectly still looking out over the field, its head with erect dark ears easily visible. Hares will be ready to produce the next generation of leverets soon, as long as they can find suitable land where they can find food and make a scrape in the soil to lie low in, hopefully keeping safe from predators. Over towards the reed beds there were a couple of shelduck, standing out with their bold black and white markings against the landscape.

They too will be searching for nest sites on the land, usually choosing abandoned rabbit holes to nest in. There are frequent flights of larger numbers of these ducks over Bulcamp hill, a good site for burrows in the sandy soil.

On the way back from the river, we saw at least two mice run out of our way into the undergrowth. Let's hope that plenty of small mammals will benefit the barn owl that we have seen on marsh.

Despite signs of spring, the nights can still be cold with frost and low lying mist over the marshes and garden. Along the hedges, the tubular white flowers of comfrey are out, but quite a few are touched with brown frost burn around the edges of their blooms. The purple flowers of honesty are appearing too, rather garish next to the bright yellow daffodils and narcissi which are getting past their best, not helped by the recent cold windy weather.

New Writers Wanted

Kate has been writing her monthly column for a year now, and thinks now is time to take a break. We have all enjoyed her articles, and the lovely illustrations which go with them. Thank you Kate! She will however be putting in short articles about the Wenhaston Commons group and the Swift group for future Warblers. This is an opportunity for other lovers of nature to send in their thoughts and observations, and we do hope that some of you will take up the baton. Contributions to wenhastonwarbler@gmail.com.

Village Hall

There was a good turnout for the Hall's AGM on 29th March to hear our Chairman Guy Chinery and various committee members reporting on the events of the past year. Full details can be found in the draft minutes which are posted on the website <https://wenhaston.onesuffolk.net>.

Guy thanked all those in the village who currently or recently have done so much to keep the Hall going through a very difficult time, whether volunteering in the café, helping with the maintenance, heating and cleaning of the building, or organising the various events that take place such as the cinema, craft market, quiz night, concerts, kurling, table tennis or badminton. He thanked the 100 club and the Parish Council for their financial support.

Following elections at the AGM the management committee is largely unchanged. Since the AGM Jill Daines and Jane Peters have both joined as village reps. There remains one vacancy.

As we recover from the effects of Covid, the Hall committee is exploring ways to improve the facilities and expand the events the Hall can host. Among ideas planned or being researched are the Ladies' coffee morning, a Mother and Toddler Group, the introduction of WIFI in the Hall and possibility of a carpet bowls group. If you have ideas for new activities or improvements to the Hall, please let one of the village reps or other members of the committee know. We want to see the Hall fulfilling its role as the centre of village life.

In addition to the regular bookings there will be a concert by Jazz in the Village at 7.00pm on Weds 18th May featuring Ian Millar on saxophone and Dominic Spencer on piano. Tickets are £10, available at the post office or on the night.

David Elliott

Wenhaston Wildlife 2020/21

March 2020 the Corona virus struck the UK, and we were all forced to spend our time confined to home, with any recreation confined to exercising close to home. This meant many of us turned our attention to watching the wildlife in our immediate surroundings.

The Garden Bird Watch Scheme. For many years the British Trust for Ornithology (BTO) have run a garden bird watch scheme, which involves members recording the number of birds that occur in their gardens on a weekly basis. This information helps to monitor the health and population sizes of our commoner birds, and in recent years, this has extended to other garden wildlife, such as mammals and butterflies.

As a response to the pandemic the BTO opened this scheme to the general public, both as a diversion from the problems caused by people's enforced isolation, and as an opportunity to monitor a much larger proportion of the nation's gardens.

Wenhaston is fortunate not only to be located in a beautiful part of Suffolk with a wide variety of habitats, but is home to several very active volunteer conservation groups, Wenhaston Commons Group, Blyth Woods, and the Swift Action Group, and many villagers are members of organisations such as Suffolk Wildlife Trust and the RSPB. With this potential source of knowledgeable and committed conservation minded people I emailed the various groups, with the idea we could record the village's wildlife over the course of 12 months, to provide a record of the state of the village's wildlife in 2020.

Thirty-five villagers responded, and, on average, 12 people returned a weekly count throughout the period. A weekly newsletter was emailed out giving the recent count information along with other local and national wildlife news.

Within a very short time the records expanded to what people were seeing on their walks around the village. Birds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians and invertebrates of all kinds were recorded, and these records were all sent on to the local records office Suffolk Biodiversity Information Service (SBIS).

Although the intention was to record for 12 months, Covid restrictions meant that records were received for 16 months, so two breeding seasons were covered, and results could be compared with local and national trends.

A total of 124 species of birds were recorded within the village boundary and 71 of these occurred in people's gardens. Records were only accepted for birds using the village, i.e., breeding, wintering, feeding etc. Birds of prey flying over are counted as they are likely to be hunting.

Rare birds such as turtle dove and spotted flycatcher were recorded from some lucky observers' gardens, and, away from gardens, tundra bean geese, great white egret, black kite, honey buzzard and woodlark were some of the many highlights.

Mammals in UK are always much harder to see. However, most of the species you would expect to find in East Suffolk were recorded, with two introduced species being the most commonly seen, grey squirrel and munthjac. It was encouraging to receive several hedgehog records although the sightings appeared to be less in 2021 than the previous year.

Butterflies accounted for most of the invertebrate records, with 28 species recorded, a significant number as the county total is just 35. Obviously the most important species is the silver studded blue, which breeds on Black Heath, but there were also records of silver washed fritillary, a species that is expanding its range across the county.

All the expected reptiles and amphibians were recorded except for adder, of which there has only been one record in the village in recent years. Sadly, frog and toad records were in the minority and there were no confirmed records of either species breeding but great crested newts occurred in several gardens and were seen mating in some ponds.

A summary of the findings was presented at the Blyth Woods AGM, and from that has come the proposal to create Wild Wenhaston, an initiative to improve the village environment for people and wildlife. More details will be forthcoming next month. Meanwhile the report is available on the village website

<https://wenhaston.onesuffolk.net/village-life/environmental-groups/wenhaston-commons-group/> or if you prefer a paper copy these are available for £5.00 from myself or Richard Atkins phone 07493 622952 all profits go to the village conservation groups.

Wenhaston Blyth Spirits

Since the last report we will have had two very different but interesting speakers. In March Ian Bedford explained to us the importance of companion planting in our gardens. He gave many examples of which plants are happy in being placed together and also those which we should avoid contact with other plants at all costs! We hope that some will now have more positive gardening in the future. As I write this we are looking forward to hearing more about the remarkable women of Ipswich in April. Ann Day is our speaker.

In May we welcome a speaker from Diabetes UK and this will be a very informative talk about this very common, but serious, illness. We welcome both members and any guests who would like to learn more, and ask questions. Our meeting will be on Wednesday 18th May in the Village Hall, at 2.30pm. Margaret G.(01502 478378)

Please pay by cash or cheque, made payable to Wenhaston Village Hall 100 Club, and hand in, clearly marked with your name, in an envelope to the Post Office or either of the promoters, Kirsten West or Trish Gower. All enquiries please phone Trish on 478078.

St Peter's Church

By the time you read this, the sadness of Good Friday and the glories of Easter will have passed and the children will be returning to school. Here in Wenhaston, people donated lilies in memory of their loved ones and the church looked lovely, decorated with flowers for the Easter Service and teas on Easter Monday. The surplus from the lilies was donated to the DEC Ukraine Appeal.

A very warm welcome to Gini, our new Team Vicar who will be licensed on 28th April.

On 10th May we have our Annual Parochial Church Meeting to which all are warmly invited. It will be at 2.30pm in Church and at this meeting, the Church Officers are elected and we give a resume of the year's activities and reports. All are welcome.

The Plant Sale is on 14th May in the Church Yard. See poster in this edition. We do hope for a fine day, lots of people and a good result.

For May services see posters.
