Wenhaston Wilder Garden Trail

For Sunday 4th June, the Wilder Wenhaston Garden and Pond subgroup, that is Tony G, Sue G, Judy M, Ann F, Jill D & Mike G, planned everything possible to make the Wilder Garden Trail enjoyable, informative, safe and fun for those taking part; an opportunity for seeing and exchanging ideas about improving our gardens for wildlife.

The only thing left to chance was the weather! Thankfully, it was as beautiful a June day as we could possibly have asked for. A rough tally showed between 50 and 80 visitors per garden, an amazing response especially given other garden events in the near area that weekend. Delicious home-baked goods and refreshments were offered at either end of the village and were enjoyed by hungry and thirsty garden 'Trailers'.

The gardens chosen for the trail were selected based on responses given to, and interest shown in, the Wilder Garden Survey, completed by 95-households earlier this year. We wanted to be able to showcase a variety of approaches and ideas of ways to 'Garden for Wildlife'. In those chosen part, or most, of the garden is maintained to benefit wildlife in its many forms: insects, birds, and mammals, by providing good food and water sources as well as nesting or breeding environments. Questions asked on the day, and feedback since, suggests this strategy was effective.

So much work goes into planning an event like this that it is very rewarding when it goes as well as this did. We are truly thankful for all who joined in the trail from near and far (I understand our furthest visitors travelled from Felixstowe!). Thanks to those who contributed baked goods, to Becky Canham- talented designer of the map and poster artwork- and, not least, the nine 'wilder' gardens/ers who kindly opened them to be visited. Most of us were able to enjoy a preview Trail on Friday and loved what we saw, coming away with new ideas to try out at home. We hope you did too.

Look out for us on a stall at the Village Show on July 16th where we will have a display about, and photos of, the day, such as the front garden mini meadow, with mown paths, as below. There will also be information about other exciting projects that Wilder Wenhaston have underway. You are most welcome to take part in any you are interested in- email wilderwenhaston@gmail.com for more information.

ARTISTREE

9th & 10th September 2023

Thorington, Suffolk

Thorington Church is a historic hidden gem snuggled in the heart of the Suffolk countryside. Recently put on the map by the outdoor theatre just up the road, Thorington is a scattering of farms with a Suffolk Wildlife Trust conservation area and the Church.

Thorington PCC are organising Artistree on the 9th and 10th of September 2023, an exhibition of two and three dimensional artwork inspired in some way by trees and all things to do with trees – birds, habitats, patterns etc. in order to raise money for the church. Sculptural work is to be displayed against, amongst, on or from a hidden circle of trees and two dimensional work will be in the barn at Laundry Farm.

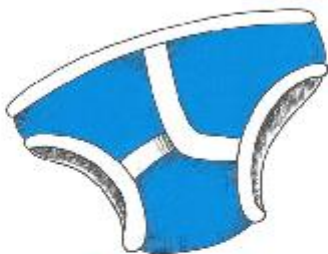

We have this glorious field of trees, adequate parking for visitors, and lots of delicious refreshment on offer, and on your way you may like to visit the church in its beautiful surroundings. We have held very successful art exhibitions in the past, but this slightly different idea offers more variety. We have attracted lots of artists to support the venture as well as some craft stalls selling appropriately themed wares. We have a great many enthusiastic art loving friends and supporters of Thorington Church and hope to make this event a great success.

If you would like to help in any way or would like to know more about this event please contact one of us.

Wenhaston Bowls Club Pays Tribute To Much Loved Member

On Sunday 14th May we had our 2nd Annual club Australian Pairs, in memory of Dick Clarke, who sadly passed away in 2021. Some excellent games and an excellent final, which ended up being won on the last end. The winners were David Hambling and Jen Daly and the runners up were Ian 'Ginge' Rogers and Tom Keen, and the winning score was 11-10. Our thanks to Tom Keen who stepped in as a substitute for Ted Cockaday when he suffered a knee problem at the end of Round 1.

I would like to thank Tom Daly for organising the event, Jill Clarke for attending and presenting the prizes, President Eve Peck, Vi Heater and Sue Long for showing their support, John Stevens for his support and cooking the BBQ/making teas and of course David Hambling and John Robinson for the amazing green.

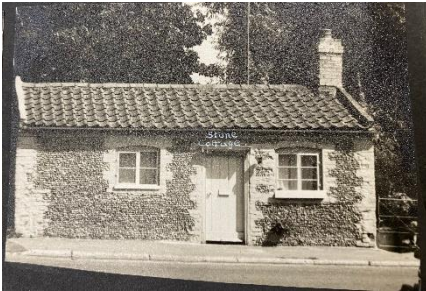

The Winners with Jill Clarke

Visit www.wenhastonbowlsclub.com for more information or contact the club secretary via email at jake.moyes9@gmail.com, if you would like to have a go at bowls.

Stone Cottage

I need some help from 'village locals' to find out about my little house in The Street. These photos have been collected from various sources, including the wonderful Wenhaston archive and I have many more. I've consulted all the usual archives at Ipswich and various online sites and managed to trace it back to at least 1850. Unfortunately, the deeds have disappeared, the ones held by the Land Registry are minimal. It's probably much older and I'm not expecting anyone to remember that far back! I've also heard tales of a lady who lived here with many cats. There was another building attached to it, made from wood, but I think it went mid 20th century.

I know how it was converted etc, but I'm interested to find out if anyone can remember back to the fifties or before.

I would be so grateful for any information.

£37.50
- 2nd prize Helen Siddle (number 122)
£22.50
- 3rd prize Tina Packer (number 19)
£15.00

Congratulations to all! It's never too late to sign up! If you are interested and want to get more involved in village life and activities, this could be for you, ideal for one or two friends for a 'job share'.. we have really enjoyed our time! All enquiries please phone Trish on 01502 478078.

Old Bricks Wanted

If anyone has any unwanted old bricks in their garden I would be willing to collect. These would be for our own use as I have a garden path project on the go. Please phone 07789965301 and leave a message or email milhamchris@gmail.com

Chris (Wenhaston resident).

The Annual Meeting of the Blyth Woods Group

On 25th May in the Village Hall, an audience gathered expectantly to hear news of our work over the past year from our Chair, Alan Miller. Alan began by thanking all the trustees, particularly Sally Amery in her first year as treasurer, for successfully transferring our accounts to Nat West - hopefully, easier to deal with than Lloyds Bank! He went on to cover our main activities and achievements, starting with the breeding birds survey, now carried out and the nest boxes monitored. Twenty-nine boxes had produced one hundred and eighty-five blue tits and twenty-one great tits. Barn owls bred in the boxes for the first time, fledging three young. Our summer work parties involved weeding round the base of the trees and cutting the meadow area in Malsters Little Field. Once we had raked the site, we spread a trailer-load of green hay from one of the Illketshall commons, which should help add new species of wild flowers.

Dorothy Casey, former Conservation Manager at SWT, carried out a plant survey on Malsters, which included the restored pond. She found a rare stonewort, Fragile Stonewort, only found on five other sites in Suffolk.

We took part in the various events in the village hall: the Village Show, Bazaar and Community Day, as well as holding our annual Friends' summer Picnic and Bioblitz, recording everything we could find in a couple of hours. We purchased a battery polesaw between us and the Commons Group, to help manage overhanging branches and any other obstructions over and around footpaths.

Last winter, we removed the invasive holly in Vicarage Grove and were helped by the AONB volunteer team, who used the cut remains to build a 'dead hedge' around our experimental coppice area. This should stop deer browsing the cut stools as they regrow.

One major job was restoring the pond in the copse in Grove Piece. The silt in the bottom was a metre and a half deep. It will be interesting to observe how it recovers, and it may even reveal another rare stonewort once the vegetation starts regrowing. Some dead ash adjacent to the footpath in Vicarage Grove was felled at the same time.

Heather Phillips kindly gave us some snowdrops and they have been planted in the copse.

Marie Rolfe reported on Wenhaston Primary School's visits to Grove Woods for various activities over the year, which she has been instrumental in initiating, with enthusiastic support from the head, Chris Stone. She ended by mentioning that on Friday 9th June there would be Teddy Bears' Picnic for the Reception class and years 5 and 6 (Oaks class) would visit for a creative writing session on 12th.

After a break with wine available and delicious free home-made refreshments, Alan Miller went on to talk about Wilder Wenhaston, first mooted in last year's Annual Meeting, and all it has achieved in its first year.

Visit Us at the Village Show!

On 16th July we shall be in the village hall, with displays and items for sale, including our beautiful new notelet cards. Come and learn more about us, what we do and how to join our work parties, if you are interested. www.blythwoods.org blythwoods1@gmail.com

Spring into summer on the marshes

Along the river the new green growth of reeds has reached well over half way up the old dry straws of last years growth, which will soon fall down into the water to be taken away downriver.

In late April the reed beds were filled with a cacophony of warbler song. The migratory reed warblers and sedge warblers were back in large numbers and setting up home. Their fellow resident warblers who have stayed all winter were also heard and seen: one easier to spot than the others, a male reed bunting with his distinctive black and white head markings, which darted across the path, perched on a long reed swaying in the wind and disappeared off across the ditch. The Cetti's warbler still calls out regularly from the vegetation along the ditch near the end of our garden.

On the fields near the river and next to ditches, there have been numerous pairs of shelduck, either flying around in pursuit of each other or settling in pairs on the ground. For a while there was a pair settled near to a family of hares with two young leverets, who at one point stood up on hind legs to play boxing. The birds and these mammals, both ground breeding species, seemed unperturbed by each other's families and thankfully seemed safe in their well chosen spot on the edge of the reeds.

The fields either side of the river have been flooded at times over the winter and spring, providing valuable inland water areas for all sorts of birds. The pool on this side is now completely dried up, but the wetness persists on the other side, in the field towards Blyford bridge.

On several occasions I have been able to watch large numbers of swallows and swifts, also house martins and sand martins, flying and swooping over the pools feeding on insects. All these migratory birds seem now to be settling back in the village, despite the cold north easterly winds.

Numbers seem lower than usual, but when the wind drops and the sun shines, you can see them again either over the fields or over the water.

The cuckoos have been heard regularly from mid May, now less often as they succeed in attracting a female, who will have gone on to lay an egg in one of the warblers' tiny nests, before returning to Africa. Turtle doves are rarely seen here, but I was lucky enough to see a beautiful specimen up close, sitting on the bare branch of a small dead tree next to the path on the other side of the river. As I passed by it took off and flew over to the Wenhaston side of the water.

The marshes are quieter now as the warblers and skylarks get busy rearing their young. Let's hope for peaceful warmer days now that June is here, with sun, less wind, and some rain for all of us and the wildlife.

Using Wenhaston Cemetery With Respect

I recently received a distressed phone-call from a lady who was visiting the cemetery at the bottom of Narrow Way, to pay her respects and lay flowers on a relative's grave. She and her companion then walked round the graveyard, but when they returned to their family member's grave, they discovered that half the flowers they had placed there had been taken and put on a different grave.

Let's hope this was an isolated incident and that we can all show respect for the graves of loved ones buried in the village cemetery.

"Is the Mother's Union relevant in today's society" - One of the questions which we discussed during our discussion meeting in June. Although numbers of members were small we had an enjoyable afternoon with a variety of questions, some serious and others very light hearted but it is always a popular Meeting.

In July we shall be gathering at Spindleberry on what we hope will be a hot Summer Day for our Garden Party. This will be at 3 o'clock not 2.30pm. as is usual. We will have the Wave of Prayer Service in which everyone can join in and this will be followed by a Cream Tea which I am sure will be delicious!

We are still undecided as to whether we shall go on a Summer outing with tea at one of the many popular cafes in the area. This does not seem to be such a popular idea as in the past.

We continue to remember Daphne Francis in our prayers at our Meetings and we are grateful for her continued interest in our Branch, she is such an amazing Lady.

Wenhaston Blyth Spirits

For our May Meeting we had an excellent speaker and an extremely interesting Subject. Marie Young spoke to us about her work with the British Divers Marine Life rescue, particularly with the Seals along the North Norfolk Coast and on into Lincolnshire. She had some beautiful pictures and also some very distressing ones. It was particularly sad to see and hear about how these beautiful animals become entangled with all of the plastic, rubbish etc. which finds its way into our seas. Marie is obviously a Lady of many talents and we all certainly enjoyed the time which she spent with us.

In June we shall look forward to welcoming Melita Rouse Clarke, whose talk is called "Is there any Hope" I am sure that this title will hold us all in anticipation! Anybody, (ladies and gentlemen), are very welcome to join us to meet Melita – Wednesday 21st. June, in the Village Hall at 2.30pm. You will receive a warm welcome.

July will be our Garden Meeting at Jane Gamble's House in Back Road at 3pm. Any queries, please do phone Margaret G 01502

Wenhaston School Update 2023

On behalf of all at Wenhaston Primary, I extend my best wishes to all readers. We hope this message finds you in good health and high spirits.

Congratulations to the Pepyn and Lessey Trust

I'd like to begin by taking this opportunity to congratulate the Pepyn and Lessey Trust, a remarkable charity that has been instrumental in supporting the children of our village. Their dedication and unwavering commitment to our community have earned them a well-deserved nomination for an ASSET (the academy trust we belong to) award. We are grateful for their contributions and express our heartfelt appreciation for their exceptional work. There will be a presentation at an awards ceremony to members of Pepyn and Lessey at Otley College in late June.

Nature Artwork and Outdoor Enjoyment

Our students have been exploring their artistic talents and connecting with nature through various projects. We are thrilled to share some beautiful photographs showcasing their remarkable nature artwork. These images serve as a testament to the importance of fostering a love for nature and artistic expression in our young learners.

Performing Arts Show

We invite all residents to attend our upcoming performing arts show, which will be held at the Village Hall. The event promises to be an evening of entertainment and showcases the talents of our performing arts club.

Year 5 Explores Wenhaston's History at Lowestoft Archives

On Monday, our Year 5 students had the wonderful opportunity to visit the Lowestoft Archives and learn more about the fascinating history of Wenhaston. It was confirmed that our school may be the oldest non-fee paying school in Suffolk, making us a part of a rich heritage. The children were thrilled to explore and are looking forward to collaborating with a professional to create a song about an unsung hero from the area.

Library update

We are delighted to report that the construction of our new library is nearing completion. The new space promises to be a hub of knowledge and imagination for our students. However, we still need to raise funds to furnish the library. I have written to numerous organisations in the hope of raising funds. If you know of anyone who may be interested in supporting this, do please contact me.

Making a difference

We need some help and we can also help you.

Are you at school and looking for something to do in the school holidays?

Are you looking to apply to college, university or for work and need some experience for your application forms?

Do you have some time on your hands and would like to help others? St Peter's Church in Wenhasston, along with other churches in the area, is committed to tackling the damaging effects of climate change and to protect our local environment. As part of this, we would like to achieve an Eco-Award for our village church, which will help us record what we are already doing and plan future initiatives.

The Eco Church awards cover what we are doing in five areas:

- Worship and teaching
- Management of church buildings
- Management of church land
- Community and global engagement
- Lifestyle

As I write, we are being treated to a heat wave. It is lovely to feel the sun after so much cloud and cold wind. The roses are in full bloom and my wildflower garden is ablaze with poppies. A sight for sore eyes! However, we are never satisfied and now our gardens need a rain! June has been a quiet month here in Wenhaston Church. You may receive your BVT in time to read about our Church & Community Day on June 25th. It is the Sunday nearest to Petertide, our Patronal Festival, and there will be lots going on in church and in the churchyard so do come and join us. There will be some interesting archive material all about Wenhaston in the past.

The church ladies are serving the refreshments at the Village Show and if anyone would like to donate a cake or savouries, we should be most grateful. Looking forward to seeing all the interesting entries in the show.
